

CCSQ 3rd Annual World Usability Day

Every November, communities come together to celebrate how we can make the world easier for everyone. On Wednesday, November 10, ISG will host their 3rd annual program to explore this year's theme, Design of Our Online World: Trust, Ethics, and Integrity.

With this theme, we seek to examine online products and design systems that are helping us to stay connected and to learn and grow during these transformational times. We also aim to address critical issues like dark patterns, ethical design, designing for trust, and designing for diversity, equity, and inclusion. We look forward to learning with you through presentations, panel discussions, and activities throughout the day.

Look for more information in the future. If you are interested in contributing to the program, please see our Call for Speakers.

Save the date: Wednesday, November 10, 2021.
